Notes from the Homeroom:

January brought us the close of the second quarter. The students have ended the semester of Skills For Success and Health classes and are eagerly awaiting electives. Second semester electives range from A Virtual Trip to Mexico, Woodworking, Creative Writing, Sign Language, Digital Photography, and Music.

During the month of January, the Vocational Department began studying Food Services. Students are working on things such as properly setting tables, waiting on customers, following recipes, and cooking the food. The Lighthouse Kitchen group continued to make delicious meals. Twice a week, these meals are available for students to purchase using their tokens and points. A few of the meals made were Sheppard's Pie, American Cop Suey, and the all favorite Chicken Fingers and French Fries. Life Skills Math and Reading have been working on identifying healthy food choices as well as reading and comparing various food labels. Science and Technology classes concentrated on inventing and designing, and drawing blue prints.

The Basketball teams are continuing to have a strong year and the Pep Squad has been at all the home games cheering them on. Keep up the good work Breakers!!!!
